1. An all weather road (#924) ran from Bardejov southward to Kosice via Klusov, Presov and Vajkovec. The road is classed as a highway and is over three lanes wide. It is constructed for heavy usage.
2. The roadbed consists of natural rock and clay. The top layer of the road is macadam surfaced, however, in some sections it is asphalt covered. The road is well maintained and heavy traffic runs on it. This road runs through a valley with woodlands along both sides. As of September 1958, the road was being widened and the road which runs from Bardejov to Kosice was to be asphalt covered.
3. The road is crowned for easy drainage and shallow drainage ditches run along both sides. A shoulder, gravel surfaced, runs along both sides of the road. It was used for emergency parking.
4. It is possible for tanks of 50-60 tons to travel on this road. This includes Skoda diesel trucks.
5. A concrete-steel bridge capable of absorbing heavy usage is located at Slav-Raslavice. This bridge is over three lanes wide and is in good condition. Another concrete-steel bridge is located south of Haniška. It crosses the Torysa river which flows north and south. This bridge is also in good condition and is capable of absorbing heavy usage. It is over three lanes wide.
